My Sister, My Friend

Growing up together creates a special bond. The playing and laughing brought us closer together. You have been the kind of sister that every sister should be. When it seemed there was no one else you were always there to give me that extra little push I needed. I have had many dear friends but I know that there will never be anyone who could take your place. The older we grew the stronger the bond between us became I was always so proud to have you as my sister, my kids aunt and my grandsons great aunt. Now life has taken us down separate paths ...

thank you for being a wonderful sister and aunt but most of all for being a great friend. I love you little sis and always will, I miss you forever.

Love sister Amanda

Eulogy

Carissa Michelle Lawlor was born on May 18th 1993 in Griffith NSW. She was the second youngest of seven kids but really she was the baby and was spoiled rotten. Even though she was spoilt rotten she was always the most loving and caring person you would ever meet.

Growing up Carissa was always getting the rest of us in trouble but managed to escape punishment with her puppy dog eyes, which she had perfected before she could walk.

I always remember being a little kid and having Carissa get mad at me for playing with her dolls. I wasn't looking after them properly. I think I forgot to feed one and she sent me to the corner for being naughty. Mind you I'm older. It was like she was born to look after people because those dolls were the best dressed and feed dolls ever.

Carissa went to Griffith Public School followed by Griffith High School. But she hated school and was always skipping or playing up in class. As soon as she could she left to try her hand at hairdressing then worked at Red Rooster.

Just a few more facts about Carissa that some of you might not know. She loves the colour red, but hates wearing the full colour she only likes it in little doses. She also loves the Sydney rabbitohs, almost all of Pinks songs, but she loved country music and crime shows as well. Her favourite singer was Amy Shark. But the thing she loved the most in this world were her girls.

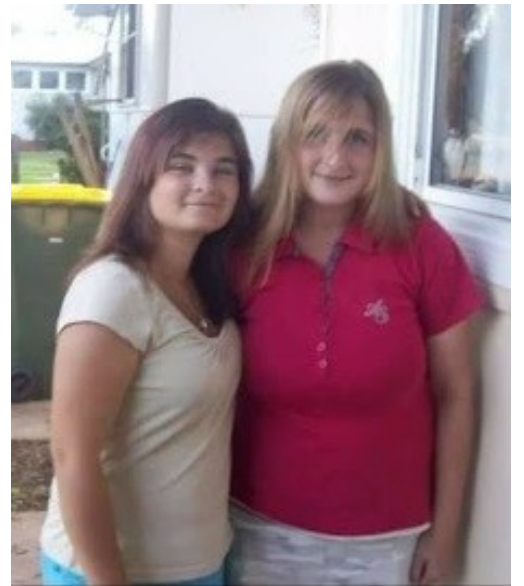

In 2015 Carissa gave birth to her first daughter Tamika and in 2016 she had her second daughter Naveah. Both girls were her pride and joy. They meant the absolute world to her.

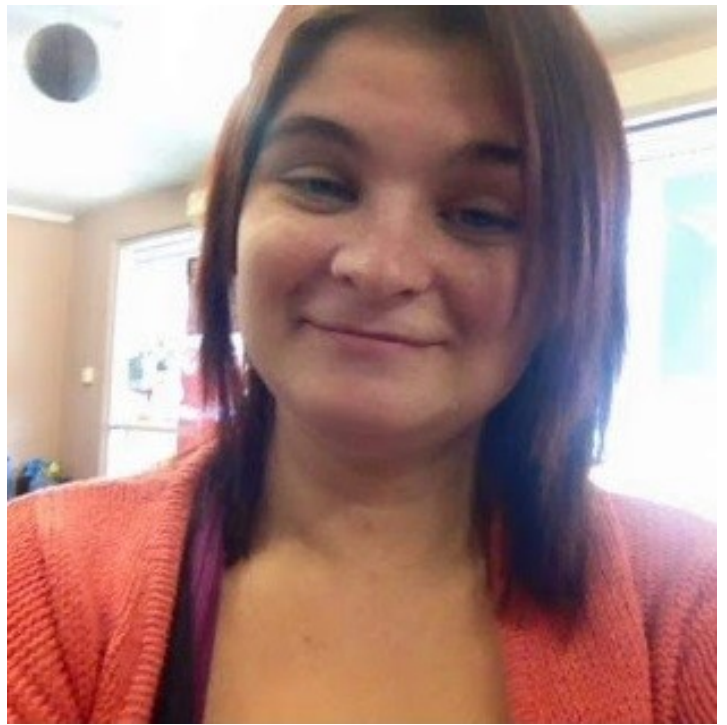

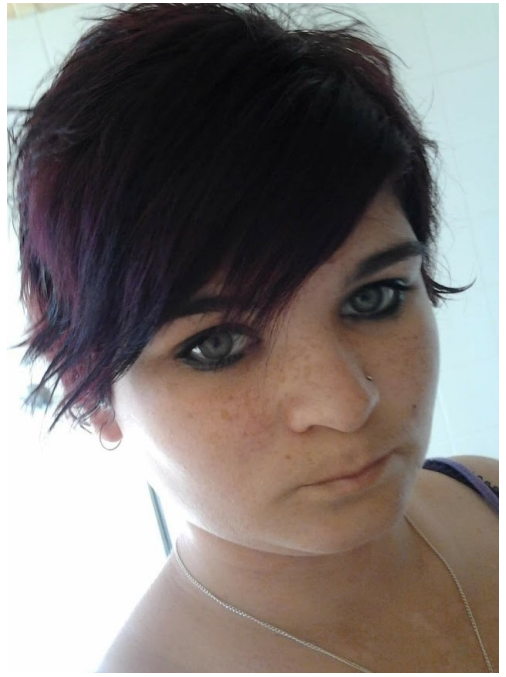

It will always be sad to say goodbye but at least she is no longer in pain now and can rest easy now.

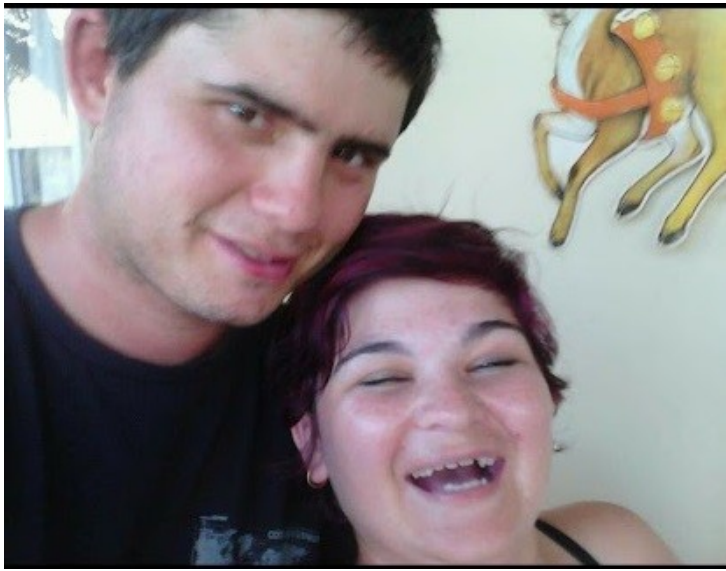

*Carissa is an angel now,
Roaming on earth
And in heaven above;
Ever with us in our hearts,
Never to forget her endless love.*

*Carissa is an angel now;
All of her worries and illness to cease;
Therefore, our sadness is uplifted, bringing us comfort and peace.*
